.... And Hannah did you look at her clothes?

Yes, Rabia, she was not wearing clothes like us.

Is it okay to talk about others' clothes if they are not dressed like us?

Yes

No

Right, she was not even covering her hair.

I would never want to sit with her in class.

Is Hannah being kind to the new girl in her class?

Yes

No

But this is not right. We, as Muslims, should treat everyone equally, irrespective of their religion. Islam teaches us to respect each other even if we follow other religions.

Yes, Rabia. We are commanded by Allah ﷻ to be kind to everyone, including those who are not Muslims. Islam is filled with mercy and compassion.
